Back on Feb. 2, we reported that Roberts was "looking for a boy to replace Chord already" after splitting with Overstreet just a few weeks earlier.

Although the breakup was initially described as mutual, sources tell us it was Roberts' idea to move on — and quickly, it seems.

Then again, Hogan, a bit of a mystery man, has boasted about his purported womanizing, and once tweeted about dropping his name to "get laid."

According to Radaronline, he also recently tweeted: "Worst thing about breaking up with a girl is knowing you've trained her so well for the next guy."

The Brit reportedly refers to himself as a "lord" and has told friends he comes from a wealthy family involved in the Mandarin Oriental hotel chain.

Roberts, the daughter of actor Eric Roberts and the niece of actress Julia Roberts, reportedly met Hogan at the Chateau Marmont hotel in West Hollywood in January.

Presiding over the party was Imitation designer Subkoff, who is pregnant with the child of filmmaker Tom Hooper, who won a Best Director Oscar last year for "The King's Speech."

pecting after Hooper ended their engagement in January.

Perhaps because of her expectant state, she now seems to be rethinking women's fashion.

"I feel women are incredibly brave," Subkoff said, referring to those who wear short skirts and high heels.

"I've dressed like that, too," she added. "But now that I'm getting into my mid-30s, I want to be taken more seriously. I want to look like a strong woman." Subkoff made a strong showing at her after-party. Despite her anticipating state, she hung out until after 1 a.m.

WYCLEF JEAN paid tribute to Whitney Houston on Saturday night. At his show at the Pool After Dark at Harrah's Resort Atlantic City, Jean spoke about his friendship with Houston, who was found dead in Los Angeles earlier that day, and performed "My Love Is Your Love," the 1999 hit single he produced for Houston. (He also performed it with her on a reggae version.)
